

#IHAVEHOPE LONDON SINFONIETTA NOTES TO THE NEW GOVERNMENT

The weekend after polling day for the General Election of 2015, 16 composers consider the society before them – and the future society they hope to influence and help create. From songs of protest to songs of hope, music has always played a pivotal role at times of social change and this concert launches a new era of impassioned political expression.

SATURDAY 9 MAY 2015
QUEEN ELIZABETH HALL
AT SOUTHBANK CENTRE
TICKETS: 0844 847 9940

6PM SET:

- 1 Kerry Andrew writing on the NHS
- 2 Jordan Hunt writing on the power of optimism
- 3 Gavin Higgins writing on the impact of the bedroom tax
- 4 Benjamin Oliver and Luke Wright writing on loneliness and isolation
- 5 Emma-Ruth Richards writing on sex trafficking

7.15PM FOYER DEBATE

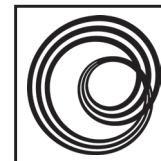

8PM SET:

- 6 Michael Finnissy writing on education and dumbing-down
- 7 Emily Hall writing on climate change
- 8 HEJIRA writing on alienation
- 9 Gwyneth Herbert writing on creativity in education
- 10 Matthew Herbert writing on the value of words
- 11 Shabaka Hutchings writing on political apathy
- 12 Colin Matthews and Jackie Kay writing on the value of the arts
- 13 Philip Venables and David Hoyle writing on gender and revolution
- 14 Ian Vine writing on understanding and compassion
- 15 John Woolrich writing on money, killing and singing
- 16 Jason Yarde writing on homelessness

FEATURING: SAMIRA AHMED PRESENTER | ANDREW GOURLAY CONDUCTOR | JULIET FRASER SINGER | CLEVELAND WATKISS SINGER

#MYNOTE

What do you hope for? Tell us your note to the new government and we'll pass it to a representative after the General Election.

Write, draw, doodle or compose; then send it to us using the freepost address provided.

FREEPOST RRYK-LCCX-LHES

LONDON SINFONIETTA

KINGS PLACE

90 YORK WAY

LONDON N1 9AG

YOUR NAME:

YOUR ADDRESS:

YOUR EMAIL:

Co-curated by the London Sinfonietta with Matthew Herbert and the Royal Philharmonic Society.

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

RVWTrust

Part of
CHANGING
BRITAIN
festival

RESIDENT AT
SOUTHBANK CENTRE